

LIFE 2.0 at St. Peter's

Celebrating the Reformation

Activity Guidelines

All LIFE 2.0 activities are designed for families and individuals to move independently through each station. General guidelines are listed below, but you are encouraged to make the activity meaningful to you and your experience. Feel free to interact with others at the table, as fellowship is one of our goals, but we ask adults at the table to keep the younger participants focused as much as possible!

A Book of Common Prayer Treasure Hunt

During the Anglican Reformation, a few years after the Reformation started by Martin Luther in Germany, a man named Thomas Cranmer helped write a new Prayer Book in English. He called it the Book of Common Prayer, because EVERYONE would be able to read it and understand it. We still use this book today! It is a treasure trove of prayers, services, Psalms, and knowledge about our God and our church. Try one of the treasure hunts to find out more!

Use #stpetersfreehold and #livinginfaitheveryday. Email photos to formation@stpetersfreehold.org.

Questions to Consider

- Why is it important to have a Prayer Book for everyone, not just the priests or the wealthy?
- As you do the treasure hunts, what are you surprised to find in the Book of Common Prayer?
- Why is the Book of Common Prayer a treasure?
- What does being "reformed" mean to you?